Easy to install. Easy to use. Delphi radio models with built-in SiriusXM® Satellite tuners install right in to your vehicle's dash with the same direct connect ISO harness as all other models. There are no additional cables or separate tuner parts needed. In fact, the only other requirement to start receiving Satellite radio programming is a Satellite radio antenna. It's that easy. And the Satellite channels work just like you would expect - with 18 presets for your favorites. The SiriusXM All Access 3 Month In-Cab Free Trial is valid on all Delphi models with integrated SiriusXM® Satellite Radio for new subscribers. All Delphi radio models feature an ISO Connector.

The ISO connector is a 16-pin direct connect to the truck's harness. The ISO connect harness on trucks standardized the audio power connection to eliminate the need for a model-specific harness.

Therefore, for the majority of trucks manufactured with the ISO connect harness, no other harness is required.

Please see page 21 for specific Volvo truck exceptions.

Please see page 25 for specific Mack truck exceptions.

Bluetooth® technology lets two devices communicate wirelessly with each other. By installing a Delphi Bluetooth® integrated audio system in your vehicle, you will hear a caller's voice over your vehicle's speakers, see incoming call information on your radio display, and make or receive phone calls without touching your phone. Most importantly, you can drive safely by keeping your eyes on the road and your hands on the wheel while talking to callers. Delphi radios are backed by a 1-year unlimited-mileage warranty.

Acoustics inside a vehicle are affected by many factors, particularly the varying environment. The chassis, engine, ventilation, rain storms, and wind noise are all sources of disruption that can impede optimum audio clarity in the vehicle. Peiker developed an external microphone to be placed on the A-pillar which delivers disruption-free audio clarity via the hands-free microphone kit — allowing you to be understood clearly even on the highway. Delphi radios are backed by a 1-year unlimited-mileage warranty.

All Delphi radio models are SAE J1939 and SAE J1455 compliant.

SAE J1939 - A controller area network (CAN bus) is a vehicle bus standard designed to allow microcontrollers and devices to communicate with each other in applications without a host computer. Most major devices in the truck are run on the bus system. The J1939 allows for the different truck components to talk to each other.

SAE J1455 - The Test Standard for all truck components — tests operation temperatures, vibrations, shocks and electrical systems.

All Delphi radios meet the stringent OEM truck standards providing peace of mind that the audio system is as tough as the truck.

Volvo Harness Guide

Truck Build Date	9/2008 TO 11/10/2014
Harness	Applications for VOLVO
PP205433 22351684*3	Volvo Day Cab models WITHOUT options*1
PP205432 22351682*3	Volvo Day Cab models WITH options*1
PP205655 22473834*3	Volvo Sleeper models with LECM (DRSA) - This will allow the radio to be powered on from the Sleeper*2

*1 If a Volvo Day Cab is equipped with any of the features listed below, the vehicle is considered to have options and will require the harness designated (above) for Volvo Day Cab models WITH options:

Electronic Air Dryer, Collision Avoidance, Lane Departure Warning, Tire Pressure Monitoring, Electronic Controlled Suspension, Heated Seats, I-Shift Transmission

*2 In order to retain the remote on/off feature using the bunk controls, a new LECM (refer to current model to determine which one is needed) and an additional wiring harness (refer to truck configuration to determine which one is needed) are required. If this function is not needed or wanted, then only one of the above mentioned harnesses (*1) will be needed.

- New LECM (BASE) 22382005
- New LECM (HIGH) 22382004
- L3 Harness: 22456393
- L4 Harness: 22456394
- L5H2 Harness: 22456395
- L5H4 Harness: 22471335

*3 Volvo Trucks' harness part # not supplied by Pana-Pacific

Note: Upgrading a truck radio to one of these new Delphi Volvo radios will create a vehicle fault code that will not affect drive-ability, but will be present when the vehicle is serviced by a technician. If the technician is unaware of the situation creating the fault code (newly installed radio) it could result in unneeded vehicle diagnostics.
